Issue 495

Huge thanks to Miss de Souza for planning and organising this week's activities with Architecture Workshops for our DT Day focus. As you can see from the photograph below, the children have been busy building different structures - octas, tetras and bridges depending on their year group. Back in class they were challenged to design and build a model shelter for earthquake survivors which was then tested to see if it would stay up. We are very grateful to the trustees of the Miles Trust who gave us a grant to fund this work in school - many thanks to all.

With Remembrance Sunday approaching, we invite you all to join us next Friday morning as we come together in an act of remembrance in our morning worship at 9.15am. Reverend John will lead us - all welcome. Please enter via Charlwood Road.

Reverend John is also in school next Wednesday morning to lead KS2 Holy Communion. Again, all are welcome. Please enter via Charlwood Road.

Also next week, clubs begin again for this half term and there is a Learn to Love to Read Workshop on Tuesday evening for parents who would like some support in helping their children at home or for those who would like to refresh their knowledge in this area. Places are still available - please sign up in the school office.

At 6pm on Wednesday night there is a meeting for Y5 and Y6 parents of children who are going to Sayers Croft this month. This is a meeting for parents only and will be led by Mrs Bishop, Mr Lett and Mrs Rinaldi.

I'm really looking forward to seeing many faces past and present at the FoSMS AGM/Bicentennial Launch this evening. Bring your dancing shoes and I'll see you there! Have a wonderful weekend,
Cheryl Payne - Head Teacher
