Issue 476

Today is our second Anti-Bullying Day of the year, where we have been reminding ourselves of the key learning and messages of our Anti-Bullying work. We invited the Education Group into school to carry out virtual reality workshops with children in Key Stage Two.

It's been a busy penultimate week of term. On Monday, Year One headed to Wisley Gardens to expand their learning in their Green Fingers topic and in the afternoon Year Three invited their parents into school to share work from their Bright Sparks topic on electricity.

Year Six have been learning how to ride their bikes safely over the last week or so. As part of our work on helping our children to transition safely to Secondary School, we invite Cycling Proficiency instructors into school to work with Year Six and this work continued on Tuesday and throughout the week. Year Four invited Paul Livingstone into school to support their learning on Judaism and we had our second Spring Term Concert in the evening. Huge thanks to Mrs Le Prevost and all of the staff who supported the concert. It was a fantastic display of talent which was wonderfully varied in musical genre and the stages of musical development.

On Wednesday, Year Three continued with their swimming lessons, Year Five went to Godly Play and Year Two headed to the Museum of London and St. Paul's to further their learning on the Great Fire of London. We welcomed colleagues from Our Ladies and All Saints' for a cross school English moderation on in the evening. It is lovely to increase our ties with other local schools. My thanks to the staff who organised these trips and opportunities for us all.

On Thursday, it was another musical day with the Wider Ops Concert happening in the afternoon. Year Five were over at Putney Ark Academy in the morning for the Wandsworth Young Enterprise Project.

This afternoon we have a FoSMs Meeting. I look forward to seeing some of you there and we end the week with Nursery's Cake Sale in the playground!

Before I close I would like to say a very big thank you to Ms. Kirsty Stephen for all of her hard work at St. Mary's. Ms Stephen leaves at the end of this term and we wish her all the very best in her future endeavours.

It's my last In Touch of the term—another wonderful edition of St. Mary's News will be coming out next week. I hope you all have some time booked in over Easter to relax and eat chocolate eggs!

Until then, we'll see you next week! Have a great weekend! Come on Cambridge!
